We're ready for your celebration

Welcome to the National Railroad Museum. We have been preparing for a long time for your wedding. From a hall that is accommodating yet intimate, to our exacting attention to detail, we are ready to help you celebrate.

Please be seated ■ By the time you count all the aunts and uncles, the gang from work and a few old friends, does the guest list read as if half of Wisconsin is coming to your wedding? If so, don't worry! The Lenfestey Center can seat up to 400 guests.

On the other hand, if a smaller affair is what you have in mind, the Lenfestey Center is still the perfect venue. You see, the hall was designed to showcase the size and grandeur of historic trains. Yet, within the hall are intimate spaces ideally suited for smaller parties.

Tour the Museum ■ The Lenfestey Center is only the beginning of the National Railroad Museum experience. Your guests will be invited to stroll the Museum grounds and view the locomotives and railcars on display. The Bauer Drumhead Gallery highlighting U.S. passenger travel, and the Pullman Porter Exhibit, can also be opened for your party, should you choose.

Details, details ■ Waiters and waitresses move quietly among your guests. A professional sound system tuned so everyone can hear every word. Tables arranged the way you want them to be.

Your wedding day should be spent in celebration with family and friends; not in turmoil over details. At the National Railroad Museum, we tend to the details of your event. You are our guest.

I'd like to make a reservation

So the Lenfestey Center sounds like the place for your wedding celebration? We're ready to put you on the calendar. However, if you'd like a personal tour or have a few questions before making a big commitment, just ask. Just like you, we want your wedding day to be perfect.

Attention to details ■ The best way to decide if the Lenfestey Center is right for you is to visit. Our Director of Sales will gladly show you the facility and address your questions.

It's a date ■ Reservations for the Lenfestey Center are made through the National Railroad Museum's Director of Sales. When you are ready to reserve the hall or to receive more information, please call (920) 437-7623, x-12 and speak with Deanna Novak.

From the business office ■ Of course, there are a few business matters we would like you to be aware of ...

- The rental fee for the Lenfestey Center is based upon the number of guests in your party. Our Director of Sales will explain the fees to you.
- A deposit is requested and is the means by which your date in the hall will be secured.
- Arrangements with your caterer are handled separately from that of the hall. You will receive a separate invoice for catering services.
