We're ready for your event

Welcome to the National Railroad Museum. We have been looking forward to your event for a long time. From a hall that is accommodating yet intimate, to our attention to detail, we are ready to help you.

Please be seated ■ The boss said this year's company event needs to be a grand occasion. Invite everybody and their families. Now it's up to you to find the perfect event venue. Don't worry—the Lenfestey Center offers a unique setting with space for up to 400 guests.

On the other hand, if a smaller affair is what you have in mind, the Lenfestey Center is still the perfect venue. You see, the hall was designed to showcase the size and grandeur of historic trains. Yet, within the hall are intimate spaces ideally suited for smaller parties.

Tour the Museum ■ The Lenfestey Center is only the beginning of the National Railroad Museum experience. Your guests are invited to stroll the Museum grounds and view the locomotives and railcars on display. The Bauer Drumhead Gallery, highlighting U.S. passenger travel, and Pullman Porters: From Service to Civil Rights, can also be opened for your party should you choose.

Details, details ■ Waiters and waitresses move quietly among your guests. A professional sound system tuned so everyone can hear every word. Tables are set the way you want them to be.

During the event, you should be able to spend time with guests; not in turmoil over details. At the National Railroad Museum, we tend to the details of your event. You are our guest.

I'd like to make a reservation

So the Lenfestey Center sounds like the place for your next event? We're ready to put you on the calendar. However, if you'd like a personal tour or have a few questions before you sign a contract, just ask. Just like you, we want your event to be perfect.

See for yourself ■ The best way to decide if the Lenfestey Center is right for you is to visit. Our Director of Sales will gladly tour the facility with you and address any questions you may have.

It's a date ■ Reservations for the Lenfestey Center are made through the National Railroad Museum's Director of Sales. When you are ready to reserve the hall or to receive more information, please call (920) 437-7623, x-12 and speak with Deanna Novak.

From the business office ■ Of course, there are a few business matters we would like you to be aware of ...

- The rental fee for the Lenfestey Center is based upon the number of guests in your party. Our Director of Sales will explain the fees to you.
- A deposit is requested and is the means by which your date in the hall will be secured.
- Arrangements with your caterer are handled separately from that of the hall. You will receive a separate invoice for catering services.
